The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Press Critics Grow Louder

Leave it to a good editor to get the essence of a newsworthy situation. And leave it to a good editor to recognize the element with which he is working.

These were covered forthrightly the other day when Roger Tartarian, editor of United Press International, touched on these items as he talked to the California Press Association.

He spoke on the problems of treatment of the pressures exerted against the press during periods of race rioting. He also spoke to the matter of critics of the press. Both matters are very real and very serious. He first viewed the subject of covering the race riots.

As background, Tartarian reminded that rumor grows as news is suppressed. He was referring to critics of the press who would suppress unpleasant news, particularly news of race riots.

There have been a great number of people, and from many walks of life, who have attempted to get the press to hold back race riot news until the riots are quietened.

Said Tartarian, "those who are tempted to favor blackouts of riot news would be well advised to remember that there is something far more dangerous than even unpleasant truths — and that is the false rumor.

"And when you impede the free flow of news you make room for rumor."

He cited, as an example, the rumor of a negro cab driver being beaten to death by police during last summer's Newark riots.

"The rumor added fuel to the already blazing fire," he said.

"Newsmen", he reminded, "do not have the choice between some of the facts and all of the facts, or between all of the facts and none at all. The choice is between fact and rumor, and of the two, rumor is the most powerful incindiary."

If nothing else is clear, he added, it is that white America does not have a complete understanding of black America . . . or vice versa. "There is much misunderstanding on both sides. Survey after survey shows that most whites refuse to believe that 'policy brutality' is at all responsible for riots—but most negroes believe it is very much a factor. As usual, the truth is somewhere inbetween."

"The police are not always as totally blameless as the white community thinks — but not near as culpable as most negroes believe," Tartarian said.

Interestingly, he listed press critics in three main groups: "One is the legal profession . . . the press, which long has been a champion of the beleaguered individual, is suddenly painted by the bar as the greatest peril to fair trial since the day of the star chamber.

"The second is government — at all levels. These critics work on the theory that if a mirror reflects something unpleasant, the remedy is to attack the credibility of the mirror.

"And the third is the dissenters — the pleaders of special causes, who are convinced that they are the only vessels of truth and who are unable to distinguish between the world as they would like it and the world as it really is."

Mr. Tartarian hits the target. Viewed from his perspective some of the trouble spots of today fall into focus.

Maybe his revelations will not solve the problems — but his definitions are concise and clear.

Is Your Security More Social Than Fiscal?

Elsewhere in this newspaper, from time to time, we publish material supplied by the folks who sponsor Social Security.

Much of this information concerns how to fall into line for paying or being paid what Social Security says you should.

This may or may not line up with the material that is part of a study made by the U. S. Press Association. One part offered for consideration has to do with a Congressman who jumped down the throat of an editor who questioned the certainty of payment of promised benefits under the Social Security Act.

The unhappy fact is that the Congressman simply repeats official government pronouncements on the subject, ignoring completely the credibility gap which Washington bureaucracy has created.

Here are some facts:

From the beginning, the Social Security Act has provided that all collections not needed for immediate expenses must be invested in government bonds, or government guaranteed bonds.

What was first designated as a "Reserve Account," was later called a "trust fund," to increase public confidence. Recently it was stated officially that there are about $23 billion in the "trust fund." Actually, these are bonds. Government bonds. They are government promises to pay. To pay, the Government will have to redeem the bonds — by sale of new bonds for cash — or, Congress will have to appropriate money out of current revenues to redeem the bonds.

Further, the Supreme Court of the United States has held that the Social Security tax on employees is an income tax, based on his wages, to be withheld from his wages by the employer and remitted to the Collector of Internal Revenue. The tax on employers is an excise tax, equal in amount to the employee tax, and also based on wages. The Court also held, in Flemming vs. Nestor, 363 US 603, that "accrued property rights" are not inherent in the Act.

A major flaw of the original Act was paragraph 1104, which expressly reserved to Congress the "right to alter, amend or repeal any provision" of the Act. Such a provision makes meaningless any statement in the Act, its amendments or revisions. Social Security is what the Congress says that it is at any given time. Just that and nothing more.

Each Congress is going to have to tax the wages of the workers who elect them in order to redeem Government bonds and meet Social Security benefits promised. The Congressman, and the Government, presume that the working taxpayer will always elect a Congress willing to tax and give. It is a perilous theory.

KIDNAPPED — Members of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors "kidnap" editor Max Goodwin as part of the clubs March of Dimes project Operation Healthy Babies. Kidnappees are Mrs. J. L. Bowers, president of the L.G. LWomans Club Juniors, and Mrs. James Tilaro, her Junior club companion in "crime."
More than 30 Lemon Grove men will be "kidnapped" February 1 and taken to the "Courthouse" at the Woman's Club clubhouse at 2810 Main st.
There, "Judge" Goodwin will levy fines and penalties. All fines will go to the group's major health project — Operation Healthy Babies.
Victims will be transported to the Court by members of the Gashouse Gang. Innocent or guilty, victims will be given the standard prison fare — coffee and donuts.

Sufferin' Kangaroos!

Woman's Juniors' Court Center for 'Fine' Project

Business and professional men will "suffer" at the hands of attractive "kidnappers" Thursday, Feb. 1 when the Gashouse Gang of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors embark upon its major health project of the year.

The Gashouse group, some 10 comely ladies, has sent notices to many business and professional men in the community advising them of the upcoming foray. A friendly letter asking that they submit to "kidnapping" has been generally answered by an emphatic "yes".

Those who indicate a willingness to be taken in will be transported to the Woman's Club in autos manned by lovely kidnappers, where Justice Max Goodwin, local editor, will pronounce sentence. Any fines levied by Justice Goodwin will go to the Juniors' Operation Healthy Babies.

According to "Bailiff" Mrs. Sandy Samson, all trials will be fair. A panel of jurors will serve coffee and donuts to the defendants after and during the hearings.

Members of several of the local service clubs have agreed to stand trial, according to Mrs. J. L. Bowers, club president. Other members who will help man the trials include Mmes. James Tilaro, O. M. Hughes, James Hixon, and Danny Creek.

Bailiff Samson and Judge Goodwin jointly denied that kangaroo court tactics would be employed. "We'll call 'em as we see them," the pair said. Goodwin, looking over the list of names admitted that he had "never seen a more guilty looking roster of 'lawbreakers'."

Hearings will commence Feb. 1 at 12:30 and continue until all the culprits are convicted or until about 3 p.m., according to Mrs. Samson.

The "courtroom" is located at 2810 Main st.

YMCA Forum To Meet Tues.

The second of four open forum meetings will be held at the Heartland YMCA, 8881 Dallas st., La Mesa, next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Dr. William Finch counseling psychologist will speak on the "Gulf between Parents and Youth." The session is open to students and parents.

Another forum meeting coming up is on Tuesday, February 6, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Jack Gibbs of Western Behavioral Science Institute will be the speaker on "Communication."

Federal Impact Funds Ready For Schools

Lemon Grove school district will receive $101,108 federal impact aid, it was announced this week by Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin. Spring Valley will get $276,108.

The funds are to repay districts for teaching youngsters whose parents work or live on tax-exempt federal property.

Van Deerlin pointed out that San Diego has about one-half of one per cent of the Nation's population but receives at least three per cent of all the aid money allocated by the Office of Education.

School trustees pointed out that San Diego has proportionately more tax exempt federal owned lands than elsewhere.

School Committee Calls for OK On Tax Ceiling Election Feb. 6

The need for informing voters of the urgency of the Lemon Grove school election was made a part of the report given the Lemon Grove school board Monday night by Max Goodwin.

Goodwin, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Schools, said that a majority of voters would vote yes at the Feb. 6 election if they could be energized to get to the polls.

"We have a small number of people who vote no at elections. We only need to make sure that those who want to support schools are informed enough to want to get to the polls," he said.

The only issue at the election will be for a continuation of the present $1.99 tax ceiling. Polling places at all of the Lemon Grove schools except Mt. Vernon Elementary school. The Education Center at Kempf and Lincoln will also be a polling place. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. — an hour later than most previous elections.

Goodwin said election misconceptions exist but these will be straightened out by a host of PTA workers.

He said that voters must be correctly informed that override does not mean high school costs;

that the Feb. 6 election is not a bond issue;

that passage of the issue does not change taxes up nor down;

that the issue is only whether or not to allow the district to continue to operate under the same income ceiling that has been in force for the past five years;

that failure to approve the issue would cut $200,000 a year from district operating income;

that the loss would be equal to the cost of operating one complete elementary school in Lemon Grove for one year;

that there is no way to acquire this money if the election fails, and that the loss will be the kids' loss under conditions of failure.

Other members of the Citizens Committee for Schools include:

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Wollitz, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klee, Mr. and Mrs. John Durham, Lillian Collette and Virginia Long.

Margaret Sayward, Dr. Simon Brumbaugh, Jr., Dr. Thayer A. Crow, Ken Conrad, Norman R. Flannery and Dr. Frank Gigliotti.

Dr. Robert Burns, Rev. Jimmy Johnson, Rev. Frederick H. Strathdee, Mr. and Mrs. Don Beebe, Harold "Pappy" Hensley, J. Ray Graham and Jerry Walter.

Sam Pernicano, A. E. "Molly" Mouillesseaux, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Nottingham, Mr. Omer Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Riska, Dr. Amorita Treganza, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pumphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Salata, ad Melvin C. Woodward.

Judge Luther Hussey, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Larkin, Wallace Dorman, Robert F. Weeks, Edward J. Purtzer, Virgil Duca and Dr. and Mrs. Ramon Ross.

Grove Man May Serve 90 Years

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Walter Maxted, 34, of Lemon Grove, has been found guilty by a federal jury of two counts of sale and two counts of transportation of marijuana.

Maxted is already under a state prison sentence for possession of marijuana imposed on him in March of 1967 by Superior Court Judge Gerald C. Thomas.

In June of last year, he jumped 35 feet from the federal courthouse and although he broke both heels and injured his neck, he remained at liberty for three hours until captured in Spring Valley.

Judge Fred Kunzel set sentencing for Feb. 6 and the total time that can be imposed is 80 years in prison, exclusive of the 10-year state term.

Maxted is also scheduled to go on trial next Friday for the escape.

His Lemon Grove address was 7035 Central ave.

Imperial Ave. Work Is Started

The 1.57 mile project starts 700 feet northeast of Foster st. and finishes at Cypress ave.

COLLEGE SWEETHEART: Rita Lorah, a 1967 graduate of Monte Vista High in Spring Valley, has been named the first "Circle K Sweetheart" according to the Grossmont College club's president Tim Kollars. She will reign over all club activities for the remainder of the fall semester. The 17-year old art major completed the normal four years of prep schooling at Monte Vista in just three years. She plans to continue her education at San Diego State, following completion of studies at Grossmont. Circle K is a campus service organization for college men and is similar to Kiwanis and other such clubs. The Grossmont Circle K Club is sponsored by the Lake Murray and Spring Valley Kiwanis Clubs. Employers Wage Reports Asked

Wednesday, February 28, is the deadline for employers to file the annual report of wages paid employees with the Franchise Tax Board.

The reports should be made on Form 599 and must be filed for single employees who earned $1,500 or more and for married employees who earned $3,000 or more in salaries and wages during 1967. In addition, information returns must be filed for anyone who was paid $100 or more in dividends during 1967, or for payments of interest, rents, royalties, and other fixed or determinable income amounting to $1,500 or more.

The information provided on Forms 599 is used as part of the State's personal income tax filing enforcement program. This program is conducted on behalf of all taxpayers in the State and is each taxpayer's assurance that each and every taxpayer is required to pay his share of the State's personal income taxes, Martin Huff, Executive Officer, said.

School Calendar OK's for 1968-69

The Lemon Grove School Board Monday night OK'd the school calendar for the coming school year. This is during the January meetings each year.

The Board approved 178 teaching days with the school year starting Sept. 10 and closing for pupils June 12.

Christmas vacation will be Dec. 23 through Jan. 3. Faculty members will stay through June 13.

The Board heard reports from the Citizens Committee on Schools regarding the tax election. Dr. Douglas Giles, principal of San Altos School described typical plans and organization that the San Altos PTA has developed. He said that the program is being followed by other PTAs in the district.

The election is set for Feb. 6.

Van Deerlin's Gala Affair Draws 700

A happy throng of approximately 700 supporters splashed champagne Saturday night at Hotel del Coronado to fete U. S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin.

They had reason to be happy. They paid $100 each to join with the distinguished guests, and happiness (at $100 a person) is pretty much what the viewer wants to be happy doing. Also there was no spectre of strong Republican opposition facing the Congressman in November which all but assures him of retaining his post.

Mt. Miguel Students Face Scholarship Changes

Mount Miguel high school students interested in qualifying for membership in California Scholarship Federation (CSF) have been alerted to changes in the requirements for membership.

Membership is by semester for students in grades ten, eleven, and twelve and must be applied for during the first three week of the semester. Students can not count grades in physical education, repeated or remedial subjects or work experience.

Activities points can not be used, but a combination of three A's and a B in one semester, chiefly in academic subjects, are required. Subjects such as health education are completely excluded in the grade point count; however, some subjects that are not completely academic can qualify a student for membership.

All applications must be carefully screened by the advisor. Summer school credit, in the right subjects, will apply only in the semester following the summer school.

The 18 sophomores, 19 juniors, and 14 seniors who make up the chapter this semester are eligible for awards as a result of their membership. They include certificates and pins at graduation, a chance at the Seymour Scholarship, a chance at a SD State College scholarship and CSF scholarships at over 100 colleges and universities. Also included is a special imprint on graduation transcripts for college admission offices, entrance into the college fraternity branch of CSF, and an opportunity to do service as a tutor in one's strongest subject.

OPEN SUNDAYS

This Sunday

"LORD, teach us to pray."

IIn a sense it may truly be said that any offering to God is prayer. Public worships, devotional reading, charitable deeds, work for worthy cause, all or any of these may partake the quality of prayer if they are made and offering to God. But there is a very large if in that statement.

Nursing Report Is Released

The San Diego Department of Public Health reported that better than one out of every three patients receiving home nursing care from public health nurses last year was discharged with no further care needed.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said, "The great majority of patients receiving home nursing care are over 65 years of age. The results of home nursing care in 1967 clearly indicate that nursing skills today are geared toward helping elderly patients regain their self sufficiency and independence."

The home nursing program in San Diego County is a coordinated service of the Department of Public Health and the Visiting Nurse Association of San Diego County, Inc. Through the service, patients anywhere in the county may receive part-time nursing care at home under the direction of their physician.

MAIL BAG

Dear Editor:

Your comments regarding the "Running of Our Schools" in your January 11 issue were timely and perceptive.

There has never been any doubt about the high professional goals sought by the California Teachers Association (and its local affiliates such as the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association); nor can anyone familiar with the facts deny that its policies and procedures have been substantially more productive than those of union-affiliated teacher groups.

There is also no doubt about the need for continued and accelerated efforts to up-grade the standards, the compensation and the working conditions of teachers. This includes greater and more meaningful participation by teachers in the formulation of school policies, not only regarding the rewards and conditions of teaching, but also with respect to the determination of what is taught and how it is taught.

The consistent posture of CTA has been one of integrity, disdain of grandstand tactics and irresponsible chest-thumping, and primary commitment to the welfare of students. Because educators and other citizens of California have approved this posture, CTA is by far the largest — and most successful — state professional asociation in the nation.

We are grateful for your expression of approval.

Respectfully yours.
Richard D. Batchelder,
Executive Secretary
California Teachers Ass'n., Southern Section, Los Angeles, Ca.

Dear Editor:

The news items concerning the meetings and events of the Lemon Grove Republican Assembly have been most appreciative during the past year.

As a result of such publication in your paper, our members and friends have been kept informed of events and speakers for our meetings. Likewise, the community has been made aware of the organization operating within the community and have been given a chance to come and express themselves also. Such as the meeting when we had all the candidates for the School Board election, and again, a meeting featuring Sgt. Jimmy Howard, and two or three meetings involving th presentation of the problems of narcotics and dope within the country, county and in the schools.

At our Friday meeting, a film about the hippies, was given and I believe we are much wiser knowing who they are, how they operate, and the perils.

At the same meeting, Mr. Ken Fritz, 37th Congressional Director for the State CRA, installed the new officers for the coming year. They are: president, Charles Grun; vice-president, Alvin Frohn; 2nd vice-president, Alvin Ruiz; secretary, Mrs. Emil Balaban; and treasurer, Virgil Trebbien.

The theme of the meeting was "Everyone's Birthday", with a birthday cake for each of the months, decorated suitably. Mrs. Betty Ruiz was chairman of that committee.

Again, on behalf of the members and officers of the Lemon Grove Republican Assembly, let me ay "THANKS" for the fine coverage of our club.

Ron Larkin, Past Pres.

'Exclusive' Representation Asked by County Assn.

The 41year old, independent San Diego County Employees' Association, now representing 4,900 of the County's 6,300 personnel, has requested "formal" or "exclusive" recognition by the County Board of Supervisors.

Referring to the County's present Personnel Relations Policy, adopted by the Supervisors last February, association manager Dodge H. Dean proposed immediate implementation of the policy provisions, in the form of an employer-employee agreement or County ordinance.

The current policy provides for the granting of "exclusive" recognition for the employee organization representing the majority employee group. The County Employees' Association has always represented of Supervisors the majority, and now comprises 78% of the permanent work force in County service.

Contained in the desired policy are provisions for employee organization rights to "meet and confer", "advance notice" formal "complaint and grievance" procedures, and a method of resolving management-employee disagreements. The employees' proposal includes a non-strike or non-work stoppage agreement, having a long-established "no strike" policy of many years standing.

Nothing in the proposed employment agreement sought denies the right of minor groups or non-member individual employees to represent their own cases to the Board

Jobholder Count Increases In Calif. During December

The number of jobholders in California last month exceeded all previous Decembers, and fewer people were unemployed than in any December since 1959. These highlights of the economic picture in the closing month of 1967 were reported jointly by the departments of Industrial Relations and Employment.

At a December record of 7,609,000, total civilian employment was above the year-earlier level by 249,000, or 3.4 percent, according to Albert C. Beeson, director of industrial relations.

More than half of the job growth since December, 1966, occurred in sevices and in government — mainly public education and federal agencies. Employment in the construction industry topped the prior year for the second month in a row after an extensive period of year-to-year decline.

Between November and December, total employment advanced by 48,000, a seasonal gain. As a result of the holidays, retail trade employment moved up sharply as stores added temporary workers. Post offices also expanded their staffs to handle the Christmas mail. Offsetting a share of these gains were wintertime reductions in agriculture, manufacturing, and construction.

Within manufacturing, principal contractions from November were in such seasonal activities as canning and lumber. These reductions were moderated to some extent by job gains in shipbuilding, aircraft, and missiles.

Unemployment totaled 379,000 in December, 18,000 less than a year ago, and the lowest December since 1959, Peter Weinberger, director of employment, announced. Weinberger also noted that the number of jobless was lower than the year-ago level for the third consecutive month. Between November and December, unemployment rose by 26,000, reflecting the usual slackening in outdoor activity in the winter season.

Van Deerlin's Gala

Continued

Here to mark the occasion of Van Deerlin "Third American Gala" was Maine's Senator Edmund Muskie, the first Democrat in the stae's history to win a seat in the U. S. Senate. He is developer of landmark legislation to control the contamination of water and air. He is also chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee which coordinates the 1968 drive to increase the Democratic majority in the Senate.

Christopher King, a TV personality, was master of ceremones, and Arthur O'Connell, screen and TV performer, added to the program.

Van Deerlin's remarks were brief — leaving the heavy footwork to Sen. Muskie who backed President Johnson's policies and programs. Van Deerlin probably has his say as well as it could be in the program.

"Three weeks ago we were wishing one another 'Happy New Year'. Politically, a happy year for Democrats will lie pretty much with Democrats themselves.

"Some of our party will spend the first half of 1968 pursuing a change in leadership. This is a right which our Party primary system is intended to implement. A spirited primiary can elevate debate. But too often in California we have seen such campaigns leave a party in shambles.

"Our nation shoulders the burden of a war overseas, with unrest and dissent at home. In this climate, the Republican leadership senses a golden opportnuity.

"I believe their optimism is premature.

"It overlooks an overriding fact: under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, America has achieved the greatest economic and social progress in the history of the world."

Van Deerlin questioned whether such progress could have been made in the area of medical aid, education and employment.

"Not alone for our Party, but for the well-being of America itself — let us resolve to stay together in November," he pleaded.

The menu: Seafood cocktail supreme, relish tray, celery with sliced egg and tomato, boned breast of capon asperges amandine, fondante potatoes, sauted green beans, sauce vin rouge, raspberry parfai, and beverage.

Pills and Spills Make For Ills

It was "pills and spills" which mainly kept the Spring Valley ambulance crews busy this past week.

On Jan. 15, David Stolz, 17, of 4432 Topa dr., La Mesa, was visiting at 10728 Eureka rd., Spring Valley. For some reason or another he took 14 tranquilizer pills. He was taken to Grossmont Hospital.

Edward Veenstra, 16-months old and his brother, David, 3-years old, sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Veenstra, 3322 Helix st., were taken to Navy Hospital on Jan. 16, after it was discovered they had swallowed a number of pain pills, which were meant for their mother.

Robert Steed, 60, of Bancroft Palms Trailer Park, Space 2, was taken to Navy Hospital, Jan. 16, due to illness.

Bradley F. Acheson, 17, of 9029 Christiana, Spring Valley, was taken to Paradise Valley Hospital on Jan. 18, after being knocked from his motorcycle at Kempton and Akard st., apparently by a car. He sustained back injury and abrasions.

There were two calls on Jan. 18: A controlled grass fire at 9028 Valencia dr., spread to adjacent property, but no damage reported; and a trash barrel was the scene of a hot fire at 8882 Jaylee st., while the occupants of the house were absent. No damage reported.

1st Class Rate Is No Higher For Some Mail

Confusion which seems to result from the recent raises in postal rates can be easily overcome, Nate Hale, Lemon Grove Assistant Postmaster said this week.

Most of the misunderstanding exists in the third class category of mail such as club bulletins, announcements, and other printed matter. Unless this material is mailed under a bulk fee rate, the cost of each piece is six cents for the first two ounces. It formerly was four cents. Hale noted that the material could be mailed as first class matter for six cents if each piece weighs one ounce or less. A majority of such material weighs less than an ounce, he said.

Another postal matter concerning business people mostly has to do with the Address Correction Requested arrangement. This rate was raised from 10 to 15 cents when the new rates went into effect. Within two weeks it was reduced to a dime again.

The interstate highway system is being financed largely by motorists who pay gasoline taxes allocated for the new roads.

George Patrick, president, a bus driver, living in La Mesa, whose route takes him into Spring Valley; Bill Arnold, vice president, who lives in Spring Valley. He is also a bus driver and his route is through S.V.

Burning Cigarette Cause of Damage

A burning cigarette proved to be a costly item to Lovey Aviett, owner of a house at 4345 Loma Del Sur, Spring Valley.

The Spring Valley Fire Department answered a fire call to that home on Jan. 11. It was discovered a lighted cigarette in a dresser drawer in one of the bedrooms was the cause. Damage was estimated at $150 to the bedroom and $200 to the contents.

The second fire call of the week, was on Jan. 13, to 539 Grand ave. A faulty electric motor, caused a good deal of smoke to fill the building. No damage was reported.

There were two ambulance calls during the week, both on Jan. 8: Ava Smith, 89, of 8625 Lamar st., was taken to Chula Vista Community Hospital, due to illness; and Lylie VanGordon, 24, of 9126 Maynard, was given oxygen and taken to County Hospital, due to illness.

Dimes Mothers' March Slated For Area Residents Wednesday

The front door of Lemon Grove-Spring Valley homes will be the front line in the fight against birth defects for the volunteers enlisted in the traditional Mothers' March for the March of Dimes, next Wednesday.

"We hope this drive will be the most successful in our 30-year history in the health field," said Mrs. Walter Schirra who is Mothers' March co-chairman.

Mrs. Schirra, mother of astronaut Wally Schirra, shares the chief assignment with Mrs. Bentley Buck of 4123 Chamoune ave., San Diego.

"In the past we conquered polio through the March of Dimes. In the future we hope to contribute substantially to a reduction in the number of children born with defects," Mrs. Schirra added.

Every year 250,000 American children are born with one or more birth defects, she added. "It is becoming more evident that the risk of certain birth defects can be lessened by careful preconceptual and prenatal care and intelligent personal healthy habits.

"By personal health habits we man a well-balanced diet, good medical care and a sensible health routine including avoidance of heavy drug intake by future young mothers, as well as extra caution about heavy smoking and avoiding exposure to infectious diseases during pregnancy.

The two chairmen anticipate some 1,000 mothers involved in the march in San Diego County this year.

"The National Foundation-March of Dimes hopes to educate the American public to the fact that many birth defects caused by infectious diseases and other non-hereditary factors can be prevented," said Mrs. Buck.

Gas utility and pipeline company annual sales to ultimate consumers are expected to reach a level of 213 billion therms by 1975 and nearly 282 billion therms by 1980. A single therm provides enough heat to grill more than 700 hamburgers or cook 100 doughnuts.

Control Sought On Troublesome Tumbleweeds

"This is the time to start controlling Russian thistle, better known as tumbleweed," says Morris L. Johnson, Deputy Agricultural Commissioner in charge of the weed and rodent control division of the County Department of Agriculture.

Tumbleweed is probably the number one nuisance weed in Spring Valley and San Diego County, and it is difficult to control because it is a prolific seeder and thrives under adverse conditions. Favorable growing conditions, such as we now have because of the early December rains, have resulted in large numbers of germinating plants. Proper timing of control measures is important, and Mr. Johnson said that now, when the plants are young, control can be obtained most successfully.

The State, County, and City road divisions control weeds along their respective roadways, but it is the responsibility of landowners to control them on their own property. Some cities and fire districts require that weed infested areas be cleaned up to prevent their becoming fire and safety hazards when the weeds dry out and begin to blow across roadways.

"In small areas, mowing or hoeing the plants when they are still small is the most effective control measure," Mr. Johnson said. Where this is not pratcical, many excellent chemical weedkillers are available through local nurseries, chemical houses, or stores. Mr. Johnson cautioned that users of these weedkillers should be very careful to follow directions for use which are printed on the label of any chemical purchased.

Good Schools Group Opens Election Drive

A headquarters for the Committee To Keep Good Schools was opened January 15 at 8384 La Mesa Boulevard in La Mesa. The committee is conducting the campaign for the continuation of the February 6 La Mesa-Spring Valley tax override.

LeRoy Knutson, committee chairman, said volunteer workers will staff the office from 10 a.m. through 3 p.m., Mondays through Fridays. Workers will be there to answer questions in person and over the telephone. They will also accept requests for speakers and assist in preparing the District-wide mailings.

Mrs. Dale Powell, chairman of the precinct workers, is in charge of manning the office, Knutson said. Office telephone number in 460-9191.

Knutson said the committee has endorsed the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education's proposal to continue the $1.97 maximum tax rate for five additional years. He said that only by voting for the proposal can citizens assure the continuance of the present level of the educational program in the area's elementary schools.

At Monday night's Board of Education meeting, Knutson reported the progress of the campaign. He said a letter informing citizens of the election and urging their support is being mailed this week. He said he felt it was commendable that the Board of Education had adopted a "hold-the-line" theme. He said the only problem was that many citizens think the election is a shoo-in. He said there is a need to inform people and get them to the polls. If that is done, the election will be successful.

Windowless Building Scheduled For Helix

Helix High School will get its $150,000 social science classroom building, but it will be built without windows, La Mesa school officials disclosed last week.

Eliminating the windows will save the school district construction fund money, architect Clyde Hufbauer said. District Supt. John T. Warburton recommended the windows be eliminated from the plans, noting the reason for windows is psychological. The new building will be equipped with air-conditioning.

A request to include carpeting for the building by Benton Hart, Helix High principal was denied on the recommendation of Warburton. Warburton said there is a question whether carpeting will cut maintenance costs and also because of possible community reaction against it.

Warburton told the trustees that carpet is becoming more prevalent in schools throughout the county. He also said there is disagreement on the relative cost, both in installation and maintenance, between carpet and vinyl tile.

The new building will contain nine classrooms and a seminar lecture room plus some small conference rooms.

Helix is overcrowded and the construction is part of the district's building program designed to provide more facilities for the students.

The trustees approved the preliminary plans for the building last week.

VFW To Hold Supper

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2082 of Lemon Grove and the Ladies Auxiliary will hold a Pot-Luck Social in conjunction with the Voice of Democracy Awards Night, Tuesday, Jan. 30 at 6:30 p.m. at the Post Hall 2885 Imperial.

Mr. R. W. Sanders, Teacher from Mt. Miguel High School, and three students who were winners from the school will be guests of honor. They are, Patrick Lee Jackson, Judy Parker and Candy Brown.

Auxilary president Julie Turner is chairman of the Social and Mrs. Eugene J. Kraszewski is the Voice of Democracy chairman.

On Saturday, Jan. 27 the Annual March of Dimes Balloon Sales will be held at the large Lemon with the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2082 and the Ladies Auxilary participating. Mr. Hibbard C. Stubbs is the chairman again this year and Mrs. Julie Turner co-chairman.

Dependent Exemptions Confusing Taxpayers

Some taxpayers are evidently confused over the substitution of tax credits for personal and dependent exemptions as they start to prepare their 1967 State income tax forms, said Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Inquiries have been coming to branch offices regarding application of this change in the law, Huff said, and it appears that some taxpayers are deducting the tax credits from their gross adjusted income, which is incorrect. Tax credits should be deducted from the tax itself, Huff said.

Taxpayers who need help with this or any other problem concerning their returns may receive assistance from the branch office of the Franchise Tax Board located at 1350 Front st., Room 2068.

Wage Deadline Announced

The State Dept. of Employment has announced a Jan. 31 deadline for employers to file Calif. Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contributions for the last quarter of 1967.

District Tax Administrator Hagen Christensen stated that employers who become delinquent will face tax and interest penalities if they do not file by the that date.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association estimates that there are more than 300,000 gas grills in use and more than 1,400,000 outdoor gaslights decorating lawns, patios, driveways and swimming pool areas.

WNROG NUMBER?

Have you ever received a misdialed call? Most of us have, I guess. And you know, many of these wrong numbers result from the party having the right number in mind, but accidentally dialing one number out of place. And just as one letter makes a big difference in a word, one number makes a big difference in a phone call.

Many people have found three easy ways to help their calls go through faster, easier and with less delay. They are simply:

(1) look up the number before calling;
(2) have paper and pencil near the phone and jot down the number before you phone; and
(3) always watch the dial when dialing.

Personal number booklets are available for your frequently called numbers. Please ask for one next time you are in your La Mesa business office.

What's 5 feet 9½ inches tall, has shoulders 18 inches wide and talks in a booth? The answer, according to Bell System engineers, is the average man using a telephone booth in the United States these days. Measurements such as these help us in designing new telephone booths.

But if you happen to be a little larger or smaller than Mr. Average don't worry—the new booths have been designed so that 97 percent of the adult population can conveniently use them. And whether you're an occasional visitor to a phone booth, or "practically live in one" as some people jokingly put it, we're trying to make the phone booths you use as comfortable and convenient as possible.

BRITISH SONGBIRD: Janet Baker, one of England's most celebrated artists, will make her local debut tomorrow night at Grossmont College at 8:30 p.m. Her mezzo Soprano voice will be featured in the recital at the college's student center.

Mezzo Soprano to Make Debut Tonight at Grossmont College

Grossmont College will present one of England's most celebrated artists when mezzo soprano Janet Baker makes her local debut at the college tomorrow night.

Miss Baker, already known here through her recordings for Angel and from the acclaim for her New York debut last season, will commence her recital at 8:30 p.m. in the college's Student Center.

So great was the demand to hear Miss Baker in New York that impresario S. Hurok scheduled an extra Carnegie Hall recital for her only a month after her debut there. A sold-out house greeted the British artist who sang a recital half with harpsicord and half with piano. The mezzo had made her American debut earlier in the year with Joseph Krips and the San Francisco Symphony singing "Das Lied von der Erde."

Born in York and trained in London and at the Mozarteum in Salzburg, Miss Baker is best known as a recitalist and as a soloist with orchestras in works by Mahler, Bach, Handel, Brahms, Mozart, and Britten, but she has also appeared in opera in England and on the continent. After her New York debut, the New York Times' critic wrote, "This is Janet Baker's season. She can do just about anything vocally and dramatically, and she does it all with a communicative radiance and personal warmth that border on magic."

The public is invited to hear this gifted young recitalist perform at Grossmont College. The price of admission will be $2 at the door.

Jr. College Board Schedules Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Governing Board of the Grossmont Junior College District to be held in February was scheduled for February 12. As this is a legal holiday, the Board took action at its last regular meeting to have the first meeting in February on Tuesday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room, Grossmont College.

Materials for submission to the Governing Board should be in the Superintendent-President's Office not later than February 2.

Lemon Grove Kiwanians Support College Loans

The Grossmont College Associated Student Loan Fund was reecntly increased by $200 as the result of a gift to the loan fund from the Kiwanis Club of Lemon Grove.

Short-term loans to qualified students are made possible by gifts from organizations or individuals to the Associated Student Loan Fund. Loans are granted to pay student fees, purchase books, or to meet individual emergencies. Students are expected to repay the interest-free loans during th semester the money is borrowed.

According to Dean of Guidance Services Laurance E. Coons, the average amount of a loan granted to students since the loan fund was established is $65. Dean Coons said, "The $200 received from the Kiwanis Club of Lemon Grove will provide funds to loan the average amount of money to thirty students over the next five years."

The Grossmont College chapter of the Student California Teachers Association (SCTA) has established a scholarship fund that will be available for the first time during the spring semester.

According to Ed Heinz, president of the Grossmont College chapter SCTA, money for the scholarships was raised from chapter dues assessments, profits from a SCTA sponsored dance, and prize money won during home-coming week.

Ed Heinz said, "We plan on awarding at least two scholarships for the spring semester. The scholarships worth $25 each and will be for students majoring in education at Grossmont College."

"The scholarship fund is planned as a perpetual fund and individuals interested in insuring the future integrity of the SCTA Scholarship Fund may contact either Gordon Shields, our SCTA faculty advisor, or myself here at the college," Heinz concluded.

Parking Ban Off In Casa De Oro

Parking restrictions along the Casa de Oro's main street, Campo road, were lifted last week after Supervisor Robert Dent presented a 64-signature petition to the Board of Supervisors.

Dent proposed the no-parking order after the petition was submitted by Casa de Oro residents. Parking had been restricted on both side of Campo road throughout the business section.

County officials asked the state Highway Department to delay a project to create left-turn lanes in the business district because of protests by merchants that the street improvements were hurting trade.

School Book Choice Law Pushed By W. Deddeh

SACRAMENTO (Special — Assemblyman Wadie Deddeh announced Tuesday that he co-authored legislation requiring the State Board of Education to adopt the multiple selection system for text-books for the five basic subjects in California Elementary Schools.

The bill also authorizes the State Board to use the multiple method selection for other subjects. The measure was introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Victor Veysey of Brawley, an identical bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Clair Burgener.

"This proposal would bring about a major change in the State's free text-book program," Assemblyman Deddeh said, "this would provide enriched text-book material for the elementary school grades. It would also give the option of local choice to school districts at an over-all savings to the taxpayers."

Under present law the State Curriculum Commission recommends, and the State Board adopts, a single or uniform list of basic and supplimentary text-books for free distribution to California schools.

"Proopsed changes in the law would require the State Board of Education to approve a multiple list of text-books in the basic courses, English, Arithmetic, History, Geography, Reading and Science.

Final selection would be left to local school districts", Assemblyman Deddeh stated. The State Board would approve a list of 3-5 texts for each subject at each grade. Local Boards of Education would select the text-book or combination that they consider best for their districts.

Lemon Grove Man Buys Third Unit

A young man who borrowed the capital to buy a used car lot a few months ago has just taken possession of the third unit of his growing Lemon Grove automotive sales and service chain.

Noel Hanson, 31, who bought Dawson's Used Cars, at 8012 Broadway in Lemon Grove in April, purchased Lloyd Fish's D & L Car Corral, at 7292 Broadway at the beginning of the year. This week he announced that he had purchased Sam's Garage at 7561 North ave.

Not only is his string of businesses growing, but his sales volume is exceeding growth factor.

"The three place will do $543,000 this year based on this month's sales so far," Hanson said.

The newest venture will supply service for the autos he gets ready for the market at his other two places. He will also perform complete foreign and domestic auto repair for the public at Sam's, too.

Hanson was employed at Montgomery Wards in the management department nine years ago. He was employed by Ford dealers in National City, Lemon Grove, and San Diego until he bought his first sales lot.

"I've done pretty well and I've been lucky," he said.

He has worked hard at Lemon Grove projects, too.

Television Special to Analyze 'Reagan for President' Views

Any politically interested citizen in the United States today has probably asked himself several times, will Ronald Reagan run for President in 1968? KOGO-TV probes this question in an exclusive special entitled: "Reagan in 68?" which will be telecast on Channel 10 Monday, January 29 at 7 p.m.

The 30-minute color program includes exclusive man-on-the-street interviews in Denver, Grand Rapids, Indianapolis, Sacramento and San Diego to find out what people think of the possibility of Ronald Reagan becoming our next President. Other film sequences show reactions to his speaking tours in Wisconsin and Illinois.

Despite Reagan's frequent statements that he is not running for President, many political observers feel that he not only will run but that he already has begun and stands a very good chance of being nominated on the GOP ticket this year.

Aside from learning what others think of him, the KOGO-TV cameras record the Governor at work at his office, conferring with personal advisors and conducting hard-hitting press conferences to gain greater insight into what the man is like politically.

Although "Reagan in 68?" draws no conclusions regarding the California Governor's greater political aspirations, it does give the viewer more food for thought to answer this question for himself.

"Reagan in 68?" was filmed by Time-Life Broadcast News Bureau cameramen in Sacramento, Washington, D.C. by cameramen from the Time-Life stations in Denver, Grand Rapids, Indianapolis and by a special KOGO-TV camera crew.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What is meant by word stress That part of a word which is sounded the loudest is identified as the word stress. Actually it would be more correct to say syllable stress as it is usually one syllable which is stressed over the other syllables in the word.

An example of word stress may be found in the word "possible." The first syllable is stressed and the word is pronounced "POS-eh-bel." The syllable "POS" is sounded louder than the other two syllables, thus it is stressed.

In Spanish the word stress is normally placed on the next to last syllable. Thus the word "posible" would be pronounced "poh-SEEB-leh." You may also note that the spelling is changed between the English and the Spanish. There is only one "s" in the Spanish "posible."

The English word "important" stresses the second syllable when pronounced "im POHR-tant." In Spanish an "e" is added to the end of this word which gives it another syllable. It becomes "importante" which is pronounced "eem-pohr-TAHN-teh."

The same circumstances prevail for the English word "convenient." It is stressed on the second syllable and pronounced "conVEN-yent." An "e" is added to make it a Spanish word, "conveniente," which is pronounced "kohn-vehn-ee-EHN-teh."

Practice saying these words as they are used in the complete phrases below. Then dial 276-2762 where you may practice saying them with the recorded voice.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Es conveniente?" (ehs kohn-vehn-ee-EHN-teh) for "Is it convenient?"
Say "Si, es conveniente." (see ehs kohn-vehn-ee-EHN-teh)
"Yes, it is convenient."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "Es importante?" (ehs eem-porh-TAHN-teh) for "Is it important?"
Say "Si, es importante." (see ehs eem-porh-TAHN-teh)
for "Yes, it is important."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Es posible?" (ehs poh-SEEB-leh) for "Is it possible "
Say "Si, es posible." (see ehs poh-SEEB-leh)
for "Yes, it is possible."

Monte Vista Junior Visits Philippines

by Paul Mizisin

(Ed. Note: This is the second in a series of releases from Paul Mizisin, a Monte Vista junior, who is spending a year visiting schools around the world with his parents, both of whom are teachers.)

We arrived in typhoon-ravaged Manila in early November, a day after the storm's 80-mile-an-hour winds had downed telephone lines, scattered rooftops and uprooted trees.

Such was my introduction to the Republic of the Philippines: the land of coconut tree-lined beaches and beautiful waterfalls; the land proclaimed by many as the "pearl of the Orient."

Our arrival in the Philippines coincided with the time of thei national election. I was able to see democracy, Philippines style, in action. The easiest way to describe an election of the Philippines is a total involvement by people of all ages.

The candidates up for office hire hordes of jeeyneys (reconditioned WWII jeeps) to parade through the streets their districts decked with campaign slogans and microphones blaring out the proposed intentions of the candidate if elected to office.

To illustrate the measures that some Filipinos go to make their candidates jeepneys stand out, I saw some that were completely covered on all sides with huge sheets of plywood bearing pictures of candidates and campaign literature. Caravans of 50 to 100 vehicles paraded for each office seeker.

Like the calm after the storm, all campaigning stopped and the people crowded the polls to vote. The suspense continued up after all the votes were cast, and continued until they were tabulated.

In the Philippines, this may take as many as five days due to the problem of bringing the votes from other outlying islands to the Luzon-Manila City area where they are officially counted.

It is easy for Americans to adjust to Philippine schools. The public schools in Manila are very much like those in the United States. One high Baguio Tech., also has an associated student body government complete with a student council.

The activities of most high schools here range from dances to fairs. Sports in the Philippines are as popular as in the United States, although on a smaller scale. Philippine school in Baguio (the summer capital of the Philippines) has a Y-teens organization similar to Monte Vista. This school, high schools play basketball but not football.

Many schools have their own teams which compete with neighboring schools on weekends. Cheerleading plays a big part at a basketball game. Tremendous crowd participation is found. Other high school sports are tennis, swimming, baseball, and ping pong.

Dating in the Philippines is on an informal basis during high school. Only in college is it considered proper. This custom is a carryover from the Spanish heritage of the Philippines. High school students usually meet at the school for a big dance or go as a group.
